Trusty Captured 6 Hours After Escape From County Jail Here Saturday Night

John Henry Laughman, 21, Hanover R. 3, today faced a charge of jail break after six hours of freedom Saturday night from the county jail.

Laughman, a trusty at the jail, who would have completed his sentence on a burglary and larceny charge in March, escaped from the jail via the coal chute in the structure at about 6:15 o'clock Saturday night. He was captured by Hanover police at the home of his sister in Hanover about 12:50 o'clock.

State Police, Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz, Deputy Sheriff James G. Warren and police in Gettysburg, Hanover, Shippensburg, Carlisle and Emmitsburg and in other nearby communities joined in the search after Laughman escaped from the local prison—becoming the first prisoner to break out of the new jail built on county home land north of here two years ago.

Nabbed In Hanover

During his brief period of liberty, Laughman walked into Gettysburg, took a taxi to his home in the Pigeon Hills, near Abbottstown, fled on foot in below freezing weather across the hills to Hanover when state police arrived at his father's home, and finally walked into his sister's home in Hanover, which is next door to the home of a Hanover policeman. The Hanover policeman, Albert Miller, was watching from his own home to see if Laughman would visit the sister.

When Laughman arrived, Hanover police nabbed him.

Sgt. Joseph E. Temple, head of the local substation of the Pennsylvania State Police and Patrolman Frank Yercavage, who directed the search together with Sheriff Schultz, after questioning Laughman, were able to give the following details of the prison break.

Had Discussed Escape

Laughman and a fellow trusty, Harold Franklin, of Gettysburg, had discussed the recent entry made into the jail through the coal chute by an unknown person who took approximately $40 from the jail safe. They agreed, Laughman said, that "if someone can get in that way, a person ought to be able to get out that way."

Saturday night Laughman saw an opportunity to get out. While the remainder of the prisoners are locked in the main cell block of the jail and thus have no opportunity to escape, the trusties, because of their work, have slightly more liberty. The two are placed not in the main cell block, but in what originally had been planned as women's quarters. Instead of being locked in

INVITE PARENTS TO CHURCH FILM

The Presbyterian church school will invite parents and children to attend a showing of the church history film, "Fire on the Earth," on Sunday evening, April 22, it was decided Sunday evening at a meeting of the school's officers and teachers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin R. Bigham, West Broadway.

Parents will be invited to serve with department superintendents on a planning committee for the "family night" program.

Reports of Secretary Frank N. Hewetson and Treasurer Russell S. Hackman were received and the need for two dozen additional pupils' chairs in the primary department was discussed. A shipment of surplus supplies to a Presbyterian mission parish at Alpine, Tenn., was authorized.

An announcement was made concerning the "Seeds of Freedom" program in which various classes and departments have participated for the last two years. Seed packets for farm and garden will be sent to needy families overseas by church relief agencies.

E. Donald Scott conducted the opening devotions. Superintendent H. C. McIlhenny presided.

Pitzer Appointed As District Deputy

H. Earl Pitzer, Aspers, vice president of the Pennsylvania Elks State association and past exalted ruler of the Gettysburg lodge, has been appointed special district deputy of the grand lodge in charge of hotel reservations for the Pennsylvania lodges. The appointment was made by Joseph B. Kyle, grand exalted ruler.

The next Elks convention will be held in Chicago July 2 to 5, and Mr. Pitzer has reserved 700 rooms at the Palmer house.

GAGE INDICTED; JURY TO PROBE JAIL DELIVERY

The January term of Adams county court got underway this morning with the grand jury, meeting in the law library at the court house, bringing in a true bill on four counts of violation of the state liquor laws against Leon H. Gage, Littlestown chief of police. This afternoon the jury will hear testimony and make its decisions in five other cases.

In addition the jury will have an unusual duty—that of conducting an investigation into the jail break Saturday by John Henry Laughman, Hanover R. 3.

In telling the jury that it should conduct the investigation, the court asked the jury to visit the jail and to call in any witnesses it may wish, including the sheriff and prisoners at the jail.

In informing the jury of its additional work, Judge W. C. Sheely noted that "it is our understanding that Laughman escaped through the coal room and that some one previously entered by that means. Apparently some alteration is necessary in the opening provided for the entrance of coal and, if that is so, the jury should make a recommendation so that the commissioners will be able to make the alteration promptly."

Iron Out "Bugs"

"In the jail we have a new institution, and it has always been necessary for such buildings to have their period of trial, in which the 'bugs' are discovered that could not be anticipated beforehand. Possibly the means of entrance for coal should be different from the present system. That of course is the duty of the grand jury, to find out what may be needed and make such recommendations as will alleviate the situation."

"Again there is another duty that a grand jury must do in connection with a jail break. It must determine if there was any negligence on the part of anyone which permitted the break. On the other hand there is always a certain amount of talk in connection with such events, and if there has been no negligence the sheriff is entitled to a public exoneration from any blame."

Members Of Grand Jury

LAUNCH POLIO FUND CAMPAIGN

The annual drive of the Adams County Infantile Paralysis chapter got underway today with the group hoping to raise approximately $3,000 "or more" during the campaign.

Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, chairman of the fund drive; Burgess William G. Weaver and Mrs. Rasmus S. Saby, whose son is a polio victim, appeared on a broadcast over WGOT at noon today to tell details of the drive.

Coin collection boxes, resembling iron lungs, have been placed in various business establishments throughout the county and letters have been sent to owners of private cars in the county asking their donations toward the fund.

Further details of the polio campaign will be announced later.

DIVORCE ACTION FILED

Charles Raymond Shaeffer, Jr., East Berlin, has brought suit for divorce in Adams county courts against Sivia Katherine (Morgan) Shaeffer, Seattle, Washington. The couple wed October 18, 1947, at Abbottstown. According to the complaint filed for Shaeffer by Attorney Daniel Teeter, Shaeffer deserted her husband May 24, 1950.

SESQUI HEARING SET

A petition for a decree of dissolution has been filed with the county courts by the Adams County Sesqui-Centennial association, Inc., the organization set up to arrange for this past year's observance of the 150th anniversary of the founding of the county. The court set February 3 at 11 a.m. as the time for a hearing on the matter.

Inspect Jail Break Scene

The coal chute in the basement of the Adams county jail today became the subject of a grand jury investigation after the Saturday night jailbreak which followed a robbery at the jail by two weeks. The coal chute figured in both cases. Pictured Saturday night inspecting the escape route are (left to right), Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz, Sgt. Joseph E. Temple and Pfc. Frank Yercavage, both of the state police.

Truman Gives Congress Huge Budget Requiring Whopping Boost In Government Taxes

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—President Truman submitted today to Congress a $71,594,000,000 spending budget for the government next year and said a tax boost of $16,456,000,000 is needed to balance it.

The President told reporters at a budget preview session that he will ask a tax hike of at least that amount—and perhaps as much as $20,000,000,000—in a special message to Congress he hopes to have ready in about three weeks.

He said he would like Congress to make all tax increases retroactive to last January 1. But he showed no confidence that would really happen. In his message to the new Congress today, the President said: "This is a budget for our national security in a period of grave danger."

Three-fifths For Military

The unprecedented "peacetime" spending program Mr. Truman proposed for the fiscal year starting July 1—nearly three-fifths of it for military services—figures out to about $471 for every one of the some 152,000,000 men, women and children in the U.S.

And if the President has his way on taxes, just about that same average amount will be collected from citizens although some of it, of course, will be in the form of hidden taxes or indirect costs.

The new Congress will have full say-so on whether taxes should be raised and by what amount.

Highly Controversial

The President told newsmen that actions by past congresses authorize $30,462,000,000 of the funds to carry out his plans. He needs to look to the new Congress only for the remaining $41,132,000,000.

Mr. Truman's bulky budget message was a more controversial document in some respects than his "State of the Union" address last Monday.

He called in it for many of his pet "Fair Deal" measures such as the Civil Rights program, federal

U.S. Bans Construction Of New Commercial Buildings

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—The government today banned the construction of new stores, restaurants, office and other commercial buildings until February 15.

Thereafter, each private new commercial structure must be specifically authorized by the National Production Authority. NPA issued the order to save materials for the mobilization program.

Commercial building will be authorized, in general, only if it (1) furthers the defense effort, (2) is essential to public health, welfare or safety; or (3) alleviates or prevents a hardship in a community. The order applies to new construction "starts" and not to building already under way.

During the initial one-month freeze, NPA said it will grant permission "only in emergency cases."

The types of construction regulated include banks, hotels, office and loft buildings, barber and beauty

Sudden Offensive By UN Forces Gains Up To 12 Miles; Re-take 3 Towns

Tokyo, Tuesday, Jan. 16 (AP)—American and Allied forces gained up to 12 miles Monday in a sudden offensive on the western Korean front south of Seoul.

Tank-infantry teams by nightfall had recaptured three towns—Osan, Kumyangsang and Chon.

The attack by an Army that had been in retreat since late November came only a few hours after Gen. J. Lawton Collins said American forces "will certainly stay and fight" in Korea.

CALLS ON HOLY NAME TO SHOW GOOD EXAMPLE

The 13th century when the Holy Name society was first organized were "times very similar to those of today," the Rev. Fr. Walter H. Shaul, principal of the Harrisburg Catholic high school told 116 members of the local Holy Name society gathered Sunday evening at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church for the annual recreation meeting of the unit.

"It was a time of heresy, a time when men were teaching that Christ was not God, but merely a man," Father Shaul said. "Christ's name was bandied about in anger and in blasphemous ways. Nations were in turmoil and it was a time of wars and tribulations. There came a great plague and Bishop Diego called the people to offer up prayers of reparation for misuse of Christ's holy name. The plague moved on and the first Holy Name society was set up to offer thanks to God and to seek to promote reverence for His name."

Set Good Example

"And the unholy use of the holy name is just as prevalent now as then. Thus it is your duty as Holy Name men to set an example; and example is the strongest of arguments."

"We are angered if someone uses our name, or the names of our forebears disrespectfully, yet how much worse is the unholy use of Christ's name?"

New Members Listed

"Consider the power of the name of Christ. If you ask anything in my name it will be given to you," Christ said. Our salvation depends on Christ's name. There is no other name under Heaven given to men by which we must be saved," the Bible notes.

28 CASES OF CHICKENPOX

Chickenpox took the lead in communicable diseases reported by Gettysburg physicians to Borough Health Officer Eugene S. Sickles during 1950, the latter reported today. There were 28 cases of this disease.

Confined to children, the oldest sufferer was 12 years old, and the youngest, five months.

There were 12 cases of whooping cough, three of German measles; two of measles and two of tuberculosis. Both the latter patients were past their 45th birthdays. Oldest child with whooping cough was 10 and the youngest, two and a quarter years; oldest with German measles, six years, youngest, seven months; oldest with measles, 11 years, youngest, two years.

Cases of communicable disease are reported by post card to the health officer by physicians, each case individually, as soon as the physician is called and diagnoses it. In turn the health officer makes out a weekly report which is sent to the State Department of Health, Harrisburg.

Good Evening

The international picture is becoming as shifty as an armful of coathangers.

Collins made his fighting statement during a visit to Korea. A blazing morning strike by Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers paved the way for the attack.

To Send Replacements The U.S. Army chief of staff said troop replacements will begin to flow into Korea in two of three months. He added at a news conference during his fourth visit to the Korean theater:

One new regular Army division will be organized. National Guard units will be called into service. Some replacements for American troops already are going to the front.

Allied warplanes lashed at Suwon Monday with a blazing one-two punch. B-26 light bombers roared down on the airport city 20 miles south of Seoul shortly after daybreak, bombing and strafing enemy troops and buildings. Then the fighter-bombers—F-80 Shooting Star jets, F-84 Thunder jets and the piston-engined F-51 Mustangs—swooped low, rocketing and machine-gunning the fleeing Reds.

Cut Down 1,000 Reds The Fifth Air Force said nearly 1,000 Communist troops were cut down as they fled northward.

While Collins was taking a close look at the Korean war situation, Allied troops withdrew under heavy fire from Yongwol, on the east-central front. They had recaptured the fire-blackened town only Sunday.

The withdrawal highlighted the mounting pressure against the U. S. Second Division, which has been holding off powerful Red forces near Wonju, 30 miles northwest of Yongwol.

Also a grave threat to the Second Division's defense of roads fanning out into the heart of South Korea was a Communist force of possibly 30,000 far behind the front.

More Reds Pouring In

This Communist force was reported operating in the rugged mountain area 25 to 55 miles south of Wonju. It threatened to choke off the Second Division's withdrawal route back to the main body of Allied troops.

Meanwhile, Communist reinforcements were reported pouring into the area north and west of Wonju. There they would be in position for

Whereabouts Of Santa Claus Mystery Now

Where did Santa Claus go after the close of the holiday season?

That's what Herbert Oyer, chairman of the Exchange club's special committee in charge of the Christmas lighting and decorations in downtown Gettysburg, wants to know.

Santa has disappeared.

This particular Santa was a replica of the famous old gentleman whose Christmas eve visits have been looked forward to by children of many generations.

When the Exchange club voted last fall to take over the Christmas lighting project from the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Oyer arranged to have a figure of Santa Claus placed next to Dan Greenawalt's log cabin, beneath the big Christmas tree in the center plot in Lincoln Square.

Without His Boots Mrs. Oyer made the figure out of cloth. The Service Supply company donated the head, which was illuminated.

One day late last week Santa was still at his post in the center plot. The next day he was gone.

"Who stole Santa? That's the $64 question," Mr. Oyer said today. His boots were the only part salvaged. Mr. Oyer removed them last week.

Employees of the Metropolitan Edison company this morning removed the guy wires which held the Christmas tree in position and it was toppled over on its side. Mr. Oyer said he would ask Borough Engineer LeRoy W. Winebrenner to trim the branches from the trunk. The latter is to be returned to the man who donated the tree, and will go into fence posts. A flat bed truck will be obtained to move the log cabin back to Lincoln Square and its owner.

The cabin was used previously on floats in the July 4 and Sesqui-centennial parades here.

FINE'S CABINET MAY BE FILLED LATER TODAY

Harrisburg, Jan. 15 (P)—Governor-elect John S. Fine was expected to complete his cabinet today by filling the posts of Secretary of Banking and Secretary of Property and Supplies.

David M. Walker, 42-year-old Philadelphia insurance man, became the latest Fine appointee last night when he was named to succeed William H. Chesnut, also of Philadelphia, as Secretary of Labor and Industry.

The incoming Governor pulled a surprise Saturday by retaining Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti to complete "some unfinished business." At the same time, he named Dr. Russell E. Teague, Radnor township, Delaware county, as Secretary of Health to replace Dr. Norris W. Vaux, Philadelphia.

Challenged By Dent
"Mr. Margiotti has before him some unfinished business of such importance his continued service for a time is urgently required," Fine said. The Pittsburgh attorney has been heading an array of state investigations in various sections of the state.

However, Sen. John H. Dent, Jeanette, Senate minority leader, indicated the Margiotti retention may be challenged. "I take the position that the attorney generalship will be open unless the appointment is submitted to the Senate for confirmation," Dent said in a statement.

He added: "It seems to me that Governor-elect Fine has the right to make his own appointments but it also seems to me that the Senate has a right to review the appointments. I think this is definitely a Fine appointment and not a Duff appointment."

Held Non-Political
Fine said the appointment of Walker to the cabinet was made to "encourage the enlistment of more young people in the service of the Commonwealth." Walker is executive director of the Philadelphia redevelopment authority.

Teague's appointment to head the state Health Department was viewed here as non-political. "His broad and thorough training in public health work is fortified by a wealth of experience in that field of service," said Fine.

The new secretary is associated with the University of Pennsylvania as a public health instructor. He also is a senior surgeon and tuberculosis consultant for the U. S. Public Health service in an area that includes most of northeastern United States.

ILSE KOCH IS GIVEN LIFE TERM

Augsburg, Germany, Jan. 15 (P)—Ilse Koch was sentenced to life imprisonment today for causing the murder of Buchenwald concentration camp prisoners.

The "Red Witch of Buchenwald" 44 years old, was convicted of crimes against Austrian and German prisoners of the Nazis. The red-haired widow of the camp's wartime Nazi commander was not in court to hear the verdict.

Mrs. Koch broke into a hysterical frenzy in her prison cell last night. A court doctor testified she was in no condition to attend the session today and hear the sentence.

It was the second life imprisonment sentence for Mrs. Koch. The first, imposed by an American War Crimes court after the war, had been commuted to four years. She was convicted by the U. S. court for crimes against Allied personnel.

The German court of three judges and six jurymen which spent seven weeks hearing shocking accusations against the red-haired tyrant of the concentration camp, convicted her specifically of inciting the murder of one prisoner, inciting the attempted murder of another and inciting serious injury of five others. She was also convicted of causing lesser injuries to two inmates. She was acquitted of personally assisting in any killings.

One of the most revolting charges against her—that she had tattooed prisoners killed so she could have lampshades made of their skin—was dropped by the prosecution, which said it could not prove the charge.

INAUGURATION PLANS COMPLETE AT HARRISBURG

Harrisburg, Jan. 15 (P)—Pennsylvania's state capital took on a holiday air today for the inauguration of Governor-elect John S. Fine but cooked a weather eye toward the sky.

The former Superior court judge, who was born 57 years ago in a company-owned house on the edge of a coal patch, will take the oath of office tomorrow at noon as the state's 35th chief executive.

An elaborate outdoor stand, seating 2,000 persons, stood ready on the capitol plaza as the traditional scene of the inaugural ceremonies. But officials in charge of the inauguration were ready to shift the ceremony quickly to the Forum of the Educational building should the weather tomorrow be inclement.

Family To Be There
Rain fell almost steadily throughout Sunday and Sunday night but tapered off during the early morning hours. The forecast for tomorrow is some cloudiness and colder without rain.

The commonwealth's lawmakers came here today from all sections of the state for a pre-inaugural session of the general assembly to get ready for the event. Both Senate and House called brief sessions for late in the day (the Senate at 4 p.m. and the House a half hour later) but they were expected to be limited to appointment of committees for the long session ahead.

Mrs. Helene Fine, the governor's wife, and their two young sons, Donnie and Jackie, will have a place of honor at the inauguration along with retiring Governor James H. Duff, who goes to Washington as Pennsylvania's second U. S. senator after he turns over the state post to Fine.

Ball In Evening

Chief Justice James B. Drew, of the State Supreme court, will administer the oath of office to Fine. Immediately after the oath-taking the new governor will deliver his inaugural address.

A public reception will be held in the rotunda of the capitol after the inauguration. A colorful inaugural ball at the Zombo Mosque Tuesday night will end the inaugural ceremonies.

Before the Fine inauguration, Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, of Montgomery county, will be inducted into office in the senate chamber. He succeeds Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, who now is in active military service as commander of the 28th Infantry Division in training at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Hints Step-Up In A-Bomb Production

Washington, Jan. 15 (P)—Atomic bombs may be going into something like mass production, President Truman hinted in his budget message to Congress today.

In a section covering the Atomic Energy Commission, Mr. Truman said that in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 extensive work will be carried on in development of new and improved weapons and in what he called: "Industrial-type production of weapons of the latest approved design."

He did not elaborate his reference to turning out weapons in the manner industry produces other items. However, he commented that "the very substantial increases appropriated for the atomic energy program in (this) fiscal year 1951 will provide for enlargement of production capacity for atomic materials and weapons."

Truman Gives

1. Estimated U. S. military service costs for the year starting July 1 at $41,421,000,000—58 per cent of the budget total. That is more than double the $20,427,000,000 the President estimated will actually be spent in the current year. It counted on active armed force strength of nearly 3,500,000 by mid-'52, with "our troops supplied with the best weapons in the world."

To Step Up Production

2. Proposed a $7,461,000,000 outlay of military and economic aid to friendly foreign countries—compared to $4,726,000,000 this year—to further the cause of "international security." The foreign program would take nearly ten cents of each dollar spent.

3. Assigned $22,712,000,000 or 32 per cent of the total to the multiple other home-front costs of government, a $1,222,000,000 increase over this year.

4. Included in this total proposed outlays of $1,100,000,000 to help expand production of such basic products as rubber, steel and aluminum; $1,277,000,000 to enlarge output of "atomic materials and weapons"; $276,000,000 to enforce the price-wage controls Mr. Truman says are inescapable; $24,000,000 for rent controls; $90,000,000 for business loans.

5. Tucked in quietly were most all the major items which fly the Truman "Fair Deal" flag—the FEPC plan for equal job rights for Negroes, federal aid to state schools, federal medical insurance with a first-year payroll tax totalling $275,000,000, housing for "low income groups" the main part of the Brannan farm program, the St. Lawrence power-seaway project.

6. Confronted Congress with an overall budget $24,384,000,000 bigger than this year's and one within $27,209,000,000 of the World War II peak.

7. Faced Americans with prospects of the stiffest taxes in history, draining more than 27 per cent of the national income into the federal chest. The $16,456,000,000 tax hike suggestion, details of which will come later, posed a nearly 30 per cent increase in revenues. Only last year they were jacked up by $8,000,000,000 or so a year to a record high level.

8. Asked a $351,000,000 increase in postal rates—mostly on magazines, newspapers, advertising matter and the like—to trim a threatened $521,000,000 postoffice deficit. Without the rate hike, the budget deficit will go to $16,807,000,000.

9. Claimed "strict economy in non-defense spending" was his policy and it was "incorporated in this budget."

10. Called on the nation to "work longer and harder" and be prepared for prolonged sacrifices because "the present emergency may be of long duration and we must be prepared for crises in the more distant as well as in the immediate future."

In addition to the $41,421,000,000 for the military which the President asked in cash, he said the armed forces' authority to enter into contracts, for which actual funds would be voted later, should be upped by $70,000,000,000. Of this, $10,000,000,000 would be charged up to this fiscal year.

Lafayette Noses Out Bullets In Thriller 65-62; Frosh Win

Lafayette was extended to the limit by the fighting Gettysburg college team before gaining a 65-62 decision after a thrilling contest here Saturday night before a near-capacity crowd.

The Leopards, who were heavily favored, trailed throughout the first half but gained a 34-33 half time advantage on a one-handed push shot by Ove as the buzzer sounded. The score was close throughout the entire second half and the outcome was in doubt until the final seconds.

Coach "Hen" Bream's team gave a dazzling performance in the early minutes when it roared off to a commanding 14-5 advantage. George Hare's opening goal was followed by a foul by Love of Lafayette. O'Brien and Belber connected for goals before Carril landed a free toss for the visitors. Hare added a goal and foul to make the count 9-2 before Davidson netted the first goal for the Leopards. A foul by O'Brien and goal by Watson hooked the Bullets' margin to 12-4.

The hard-working Bullets built up a 25-17 lead late in the half and then appeared to tire with the result. Lafayette closed the gap rapidly and pulled to within 28-27. Gettysburg recovered on a goal by Ketterman which was followed by a foul by Davidson. Pizzaloto looped a foul but Love netted a goal with 1:50 remaining. Pizzaloto came through with a twin-pointer which was matched by another by Love. Just as the half ended Love landed his one-handed shot to send the Leopards ahead for the first time 34-33.

Leopards Move Ahead
During the first 10 minutes of the second half the lead changed hands several times and was tied on three occasions. Going into the final 10 minutes Lafayette led 51-48.

A pair of goals by Belber and Hare gained a 52-52 tie for the locals after two minutes and after Lafayette moved ahead 58-55, four successive fouls, two each by Hare and Watson, again tied the count at 59-59 with 2:45 remaining. Love scored on a tap-in and Shor landed a foul. Pizzaloto converted two free tosses as the score stood 62-61 in favor of the Leopards with 1:15 remaining. Lafayette began a "freeze" and Davidson drew a foul which he converted. A goal by Love, who got loose, put the clincher on the game. Pizzaloto landing a free toss for the last point. A second shot was turned down by the Bullets to take the ball out of bounds to try for a goal but the rule failed in the frantic efforts during the final seconds.

George Davidson, whose pet shot is a pivot shot from beneath the hoop, landed 24 points to pace the winners. The all-around work and long goal tossing of Pete Carril was also outstanding for the invaders.

The entire Bullets squad gave a good account of itself although many comparatively easy shots were muffed. O'Brien connected for 19 points in leading the attack.

Freshmen Win Thrill
Johnny Yovicic's unbeaten freshman captured their third straight by easily disposing of Stevens Trade school in the preliminary game 76-40. The score was comparatively close in the first period but a 21-point surge by the clever and promising yearlings in the second quarter removed all doubt as to the outcome. Coach Yovicic used his entire squad of 15 men.

On Saturday the Bullets varsity tangles with Penn State college at State College. The frosh next meet the Navy plebes at Annapolis on January 31.

CURT SIMMONS TO GET AWARD

Harrisburg, Jan. 15 (AP) - Curt Simmons, the soldier-pitcher who will be honored here Jan. 31 as Pennsylvania's athlete of 1950.

The Philadelphia Phillies south-paw hurler, now a Pfc. with the 28th Infantry Division, was named yesterday by the Harrisburg Sports-writers and Sportscasters association to receive its annual award.

Gov. John S. Fine will present Simmons with a plaque at the Scribes' annual banquet.

A native of Egypt, Pa., the $65,000 bonus pitcher won 17 games for the National league champions before being called to active duty last September.

Simmons is the third state athlete honored by the capital city sports-writers. Previous winners were Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Arnold Galiffa, All-America quarterback for Army.

Simmons will be joined at the speakers' table by Phillies Manager Eddie Sawyer; Bill Jeffery, Penn State soccer coach; Woody Sponaugle, Franklin and Marshall football coach, and Bill Leckonby, grid man for Lehigh university.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the U.S. flag was written in August, 1892, by Francis Bellamy, a member of the staff of the Youth's Companion in Boston, Mass.

EX-SCHOOLBOY CAGE TITLISTS ARE TOTTERING

Harrisburg, Jan. 15 (AP) - Defending champions and pre-season favorites are tottering all over Pennsylvania today as schoolboy cage conference races round the quarter mark.

Few of December's highly touted quintets have lived up to expectations now that the playing is for keeps. Those that haven't been upset have come close to it.

Last week was a trying time for most of the commonwealth's giants. Two long league winning streaks were snapped and five top teams were dumped along the way.

Plymouth's 65-game Wyoming Valley string was ended by Kingston, 43-41, while Conemaugh lost its first West Central league game in 59 years out. Plymouth hadn't been topped in its loop since 1946 while Conemaugh had five all-winner years in the West Central circuit.

Chambersburg, Homestead, Pottstown, Swoyersville and Williamsport were the upset victims last week by Hershey, McKeesport, Coatesville, and Hazleton, respectively.

Meanwhile, the state's major basketball conferences head into the most crucial week of the first-half races.

One of Tuesday night's top games will take place in Johnstown's War Memorial arena when the Trojans, of Johnstown, meet the Hilltoppers, of Westmont, in a battle for first place in the tri-county league. Both teams are unbeaten in circuit competition.

Unbeaten Bethlehem meets a potent Allentown Central Catholic quintet in the top East conference billing. The Vikings gained prestige by edging highly-regarded Allentown High, 52-51, while Bethlehem overpowered Pottsville.

York, which got by under-rated Lancaster by only three points last week, tangles with John Harris, of Harrisburg, top-heavy winner over reading Saturday night. Harris is determined to stop the Bearcats' high-scoring Hal Brown.

Pottstown's bid for the Ches-Mont league's first title hinges on the outcome of its game tomorrow night with West Chester while Mahanoy City must get by Summit Hill in the black Diamond league.

Old Forge draws tough West Scranton in the Lackawanna league while leading Selinsgrove tangles with Trevorton tonight in the first of its three Susquehanna league contests this week.

Action is light tomorrow night in the WPIAL with most of the major powers resting up for another charge on Friday. However, potent Alquippa, one of the favorites to succeed Homestead, draws Ellwood City and Farrell plays Beaver Falls.

Bradford, the lone district champ to remain unbeaten this season, rests up tomorrow night for its Friday battle with Brookville but Punxsutawney meets Clarion in the southern part of district nine.

Erie Academy meets Erie Tech in a top big seven contest while Corry entertains potent Erie Cathedral Prep.

The cigar store Indian was brought to this country by English colonists. Sir Walter Raleigh told in England about the Indian's pipe of peace, and tobacco merchants there used wooden Indians as advertisements, which started the custom.

GRAHAM PILOTS AMERICANS TO PRO GRID WIN

Los Angeles, Jan. 15 (AP) - Yes, sir, Paul N. Otto, the championship combine from Cleveland, moved 'em down again.

Coach Paul Brown stuck with his ace quarterback Otto Graham, just as he said he would. And in the end Otto stuck the National conference All-Stars, leading his American conference mates to a stirring 28 to 27 win in the pro bowl yesterday.

It completed the personal triumph of Brown and Graham over the National football league. After four all-America conference titles, the Browns of Cleveland moved right into the NFL's throne room despite the most stubborn opposition ever seen in pro grid circles.

And now this: Graham, with a 27-14 defeat staring at him in the third quarter, caught fire, as he did in the Browns' 30-28 championship win over the Los Angeles Rams Dec. 24. He started hitting his pass receivers and then, when the defenses spread, Otto sneaked off guard six and nine yards for two quick touchdowns. Pat Harder's pair of conversions proved decisive.

Outstanding Player
Graham's passing - 19 completions in 33 throws for 252 yards - was sharp, but it was his payoff runs that were remarkable and earned him the sportswriters' unanimous selection as the game's outstanding player. Otherwise brutal line play nullified scrimmage running. The Americans wound up with only 23 yards net rushing, the Nationals 24.

Until Graham took charge, the Rams' Bob Waterfield was the big gun with his touchdown passes of 23 and 65 yards to ends Tommy Fears (Rams) and Dan Edwards (New York Yankees) and two field goals, from 30 and 27 yards out.

Waterfield had seven completions in 14 attempts for 125 yards. A crowd of 53,676 sat in on the NFL's first all-star venture in Memorial coliseum. Each American player received $600; each National $500.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP) - Four states - Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware - were asked today to set up a commission to finance and construct a $64,000,000 water project in the upper Delaware river basin. The request was made in a report filed by the Interstate Commission on the Delaware river basin (INCODEL) by the governors and legislatures of the four states.

The project, in its first stage, would consist of a series of four dams in the basin, about Delaware Water Gap, creating reservoirs that would catch and hold 527,000,000 gallons of flood waters.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Dallas, Jan. 15 (AP) - You can understand why they take football so seriously in this part of the country when you hear that Southern Methodist U. has lost only one of its last 13 games against teams from outside Texas - that a dramatic 20-27 defeat by Notre Dame - and has won only two of its last eleven against home-state rivals. . . . In the past couple of years, too, SMU has had the services of Doak Walker, Kyle Rote and a kid named Fred Beniers, who in his sophomore and junior years outdid the feats of such flingers as Sammy Baugh, Davey O'Brien and Bobby Layne in the corresponding seasons. . . . At the start of the 1950 season SMU publicist, Les Jordan, set a "passing par" for Beniers of one completed pass for each minute he played. . . . Fred had a "birdie" year with 109 completions in 108 minutes played. . . . Jordan, incidentally, was the gent who was kicking himself all around the publicity meeting because he didn't think of billing the games as "roteos" until the season was over.

HE WASN'T TERRY-FIED
If you want to stretch a pun to the limit, you might say that Terry McFarlane, the Cotton Bowl mascot, probably felt right at home during that game. . . . Terry comes from Dripping Springs, Tex., and the skies were dripping. . . . Terry, a former high school footballer, was honored because of his courageous comeback after a polo attack. . . . He stuck it out clear through the contest and the fans, who left sniffing because of the weather or of Tennessee's victory, wondered whether he'd suffer any ill effects. . . . A few days later a March of Dimes representative mustered the fortitude to phone the McFarlane home and inquire. . . . Terry's mother replied: "Oh, Terry? He's out deer hunting."

MONDAY MATINEE
One more tip from "Mr. Inside" before leaving town: Bo McMillin won't take the Kansas State Athletic director job and K-State will switch to seeking a "name" coach and a less-celebrated A. D. . . . Notre Dame footballers still are collecting honors in spite of the team's record. . . . Bob Williams just received the Swede Nelson award for sportsmanship in Boston and John Pettibone is due to get a trophy in New Orleans as the outstanding athlete from that area. . . . Guy who claimed to be happiest when the sanity code fuss wound up was the one who was scheduled to give the second "rebuttal" speech for the code. . . . After Gordon Gray (North Carolina president

The Message of the Governor is an excellent one. His remarks upon the Fugitive Slave Law, and the Union, are clear and convincing, and must meet with general approval.

Among the early adventurers to California was our young friend, J. Harrison Kelly, who formerly "stuck type" in the office of the "Sentinel." We received from him several papers, published at Sacramento City, California, in which we find some dispatches from him as "Major 2d Brig. 1st Div. Cal. Mil.," and Aid-de-camp to the General, giving an account of expeditions against the Indians, who have been engaged in murders of the whites. He talks quite en militaire. He is a young man of mind and energy, and will be "something," or we are much mistaken in him.

It was expected to be the most brilliant entertainment ever given in Philadelphia.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TINKER OF YALE

One of the most inspiring men whom it has been my good fortune to meet, and know all too little, is that great teacher and friend, Prof. Chauncey Brewster Tinker, of Yale University. I envy the joy every student must have experienced who listened to his inspiring teaching. It has been my rare privilege, however, to have talked of books and people with this man, listening to his gentle, yet fascinating, talk in his magnificent library of treasures, and watching him handle his rarities as though they still lived and talked.

About a year ago I was with my friend in his cloistered "den," and he reached for a book, "The Age of Johnson," just published, and beautifully inscribed it to me. It contains thirty-six essays by former students, all of whom are of reputation and renown in scholastic realms today. It was written and presented to him as a memorial of love from those former students.

In the introduction to this book is a beautiful tribute to the man and to the teaching of Professor Tinker by Wilmarth Sheldon Lewis, who says: "In Mr. Tinker's view, a classroom was a place where young men were stirred up, where they were taught to think, and where they were shown the beauty and significance of English literature." Many have been the fine books by this scholar, but he says: "I shall be remembered for my students. These are my jewels."

And so, as a fitting tribute to a friend, on the last day in 1950, alone in my library, I took down several of the books by this writer and teacher, and imbibed the rich and satisfying bouquet from this living literature of his, which I so much love and treasure. Few men have contributed to "The Age of Johnson" as has Chauncey Tinker. And he has played a most prominent part in the recent discovery and publication of the famous "Boswell's London Journal," the first volume of which has just recently come from the press.

But this fact remains—Chauncey Brewster Tinker will live longest and most securely in those whom he has loved and inspired. A truly great man.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Our Mental Allies." Protected, 1951, by The George Matthew Adams Service

DOUBTED
I know they doubt me when I say
That long ago I owned a sled
And stomach flat, the same as they.

Full speed down many a hillside sped.
They've only known me old and fat;
Too frightened for such sport as that.

They don't believe me when I boast
About the way I used to skate,
Claiming that better far than most
I used to cut the figure eight.
They doubt those fancy figure eights.

They can't imagine me on skates.

They've only known me tired and slow,
Afraid of indigestion's ache,
Their grandpa always saying:
"No"

When offered candy, pie or cake.
They think that I was born the

I look and act and talk today.

Cop Smells Trouble; Garage Is Robbed

Danville, Pa., Jan. 15 (AP)—Patrolman Jim Doran dropped into the office of the Danville Morning News at 2 a.m. Saturday and told reporters: "I smell trouble tonight."

Three hours later, two gunmen slugged a 72-year-old watchman and rifled the cash register at Kindt's garage. The watchman, Harvey C. Livizey, was treated for skull lacerations at Gelsinger hospital.

He told police the men walked into the service station carrying pistols and ordered him to open the cash register. When he turned around, they slugged him with a pistol and made off with the $35 in the till.

Livizey feigned unconsciousness until the men fled. Then he telephoned police and reported the men escaped in a late model convertible.

Will "Name Names" In Bribe Dispute

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Rep. Sutton (D-Tenn.) said today he will "name some names" to back up his disputed charges that bribes have influenced the making of loans by the Reconstruction Finance corporation (RFC).

Sutton told the House on Friday a Senate investigating committee would report evidence that "several thousand dollars have been accepted by the officials of the RFC in bribes to secure loans on different projects."

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), who heads the committee, promptly issued a statement that his group will accuse no one of taking bribes "because no instances of bribery have been found in the subcommittee's study."

RFC officials declined comment.

Rotary "Amazed" By Pope's Ruling

Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—Rotary International officials and some Catholic clergymen were baffled today by the decree of Pope Pius XII forbidding all Roman Catholic clergymen from membership in Rotary clubs.

A former president of Rotary International said he was "amazed" at the action of the Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office in Vatican City which is headed by Pope Pius. The decree also warned Catholic laymen to follow the Canon law in regard to membership in Rotary clubs. The reasons were not given.

"We can't figure this one out," said a spokesman at headquarters of Rotary International. He added the organization, which has 344,000 members in 7,200 clubs around the globe, had never had any "trouble with the church that I can remember."

"QUEENS" NEW CONTENDER FOR TOMATO TITLE

The famous Rutgers tomato, most popular variety grown east of the Mississippi river and known all over the world for its high yields of superior fruit, now has a running mate.

Designated as Queens in commemoration of the original name of Rutgers university, the new tomato was developed for the early market by Professor Lyman G. Schermerhorn, who is in charge of vegetable breeding work at the Agricultural Experiment station of the State university. Professor Schermerhorn introduced the Rutgers variety in 1934.

Queens is a cross between the Valiant and Rutgers varieties. It ripens the peak of its crop about a week later than Valiant and at least a week to ten days earlier than Rutgers. It produces a heavy crop of fruit which is exceptionally uniform in size, shape and smoothness. One outstanding characteristic of Queens, according to Professor Schermerhorn, is the firmness of the fruit whether picked on the "blush" or "red ripe." This should make it carry well in baskets and shipping containers and attract favorable attention from buyers at roadside stands and retail markets, he points out.

The fruits are medium in size, deep globe in shape, averaging about two and one-half inches in diameter and five ounces in weight. Queens tomatoes have thick outer and inner walls and small seed cavities, which may account for the hard, firm feel of the fruits. The flavor of fruit is pleasing and it is suggested as an early market and home garden variety, either for staking or natural culture.

Professor Schermerhorn says that seed won't be generally available until 1952. The present limited supply of seed is being distributed to several commercial seed companies for increase.

Growers of large acreages of tomatoes are cautioned against the use of Queens until it is given further trials. It has had two years of field trials in eight New Jersey counties—Bergen, Burlington, Cumberland, Gloucester, Middlesex, Monmouth, Salem and Union—and has made a good record wherever tested. However, it has not yet been tried on large acreages and until this is done no definite recommendations will be issued by the Experiment Station for its use for manufacturing purposes.

Control and prevention go hand in hand in a round-the-year program of sanitation and protection. First, all badly infested trees, particularly specimens unlikely to recover full vigor, should be taken up and burned. Wild fruit trees along fence rows, most of which are worthless in terms of fruit production, should be added to this pyre. Likewise, badly infested limbs should be cut out and burned. All these clean-up measures should be employed at pruning time in late winter in order to destroy the dormant larvae.

CONTROL OF SHOT-HOLE BORERS

The fruit tree enemy commonly known as shot-hole borer or fruit tree bark-beetle attacks all deciduous fruits and is troublesome wherever wild or domesticated trees grow throughout the eastern half of the United States. The name "shot-hole" originates from its habit of making a small round hole where the adult form enters or leaves an infested tree. All fruit growers should know how to identify this pest and employ effective control measures.

Perhaps the most important fact to remember in efforts to curb shot-hole borers is that they usually attack trees which have already been rendered weak by drought, lack of plant foods, by ravages of other insects or diseases, or by injuries. Prevention, therefore, is a useful practice in keeping shot-hole borers reduced. Annual feeding of fruit trees with applications of nitrogenous fertilizers, just before blooms open, helps greatly to stimulate vigorous growth. Watering in times of prolonged drought and keeping the soil deeply enriched with moisture-holding organic matter will go far to reduce drought dangers. And of course, applying the standard protective spray schedules recommended for each kind of fruit is a "must" for preventing such pests as scales and foliage feeding enemies from weakening the trees.

This insect spends its winter as a small larva (grub) beneath the bark, emerging from early April until June as a small dark brown or black beetle. In a few days the female beetle deposits her eggs in the soft inner bark layer, thus making a characteristic entrance hole similar to the one that was made when the adult earlier left the tree. There may be two or three annual broods, although in the northern tier of states the larvae of the second brood over-winters in the trees. Four broods are propagated in southern orchards each summer.

Shot-hole borers often are accused of killing or seriously injuring fruit trees when, in fact, they are merely taking advantage of the weakened condition of the tree already caused by other factors. And in the case of peach and plum trees the oozing gum from their entrance and exit holes renders their presence doubly alarming. However, such exudations seldom injure the trees. The invisible feeding of both beetle and larva in the inner bark is by far the more dangerous damage.

Control and prevention go hand in hand in a round-the-year program of sanitation and protection. First, all badly infested trees, particularly specimens unlikely to recover full vigor, should be taken up and burned. Wild fruit trees along fence rows, most of which are worthless in terms of fruit production, should be added to this pyre. Likewise, badly infested limbs should be cut out and burned. All these clean-up measures should be employed at pruning time in late winter in order to destroy the dormant larvae.

Heavy applications of ordinary whitewash are effective to repel the egg-laying beetle—one in early spring (around late March), another in early to mid-July, and another in late September. Prepare the mixture thick and apply to the trunk and larger limbs with a brush.

In the Pacific Northwest orchardists report a spray of DDT effective if applied when the beetles are actively present. This is prepared at the rate of 5 level teaspoonfuls to one gallon of water of a 50-per cent DDT wettable powder.

There are now 16,000 registered motor cars on Singapore roads.

China Asters Are Staging Comeback

China asters are staging a comeback judging from the increasing number of gardeners who include them in their planting plans. Years ago one could find them in almost every garden and then came the aster yellows and the wilt disease. These caused gardeners by the thousands to turn toward other annuals more likely to succeed.

The introduction of wilt-resistant strains changed the picture again in their favor but aster yellows is just as much a problem now as when it first became rampant. It is a virus affliction carried to the plants by certain species of leafhoppers which pick it up from weeds along fence rows or waste ground.

For some reason the trouble has not been nearly so severe during recent years in some sections. Growing the plants under cheesecloth is a sure way of protecting them from infection, but the enclosure must be tight all around to prevent leafhoppers reaching the plants from the time the seedlings push through the ground until they are in full bloom.

Akron, O., Jan. 15 (AP)—Motorists and truckers, with a keen memory for a good turn, will say thank you on Wednesday to two good neighbor towns—Irwin, Pa., and Medina, O. And they'll say it with cash—$2,000 for each town.

The American trucking association will present the money on behalf of car drivers and truckers who were befriended in Irwin and Medina during the five-day Thanksgiving time blizzard last year.

NEW TRUCK IS FOUND USEFUL

New four-wheel drive, one-ton Willys trucks, especially equipped for fighting forest fires, have been proved "thoroughly satisfactory," according to Tom Norris, district forester of the Michaux District.

One of the trucks, of which 24 were put into service by the State Department of Forests and Waters, has been assigned to the Michaux district office at Caledonia.

The truck, according to Norris, will travel through swampland, woods and deep snows. It has been tested extensively since it arrived at the Caledonia office recently. The truck climbed the Long Mountain Tower road to the summit since the recent snowfall. The climb, according to Norris, is extremely difficult for an ordinary truck when the road is clear of ice and snow.

Equipped with fire-pump, water tanks, pumps and front end winches to meet any emergency, one unit has been assigned to each of the State's 24 forest districts, according to E. A. Lefkof, chief of the division of forest management, in Harrisburg.

The vehicle's firepumps, operated by hydraulic implement lifts, turn up the turf around blazing areas to thwart further spread of flames. The vehicle's four-wheel drive feature, in addition to making the plowing of firebreaks possible, enables the vehicle to traverse off-the-road areas.

A 100-gallon water tank is mounted on the rear of each truck. Controls in the drivers cab operate a water or pump off the vehicle's center power takeoff. Water tanks are equipped with hose and nozzles.

BUSY DAY FOR SUPREME COURT

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP) — The state Superior Court, in one of its busiest opinion days in years, cleared the way for higher transit fares in Pittsburgh, set aside convictions of two persons questioned in the Pittsburgh free work investigation and granted a new trial to a former pharmacy board member convicted of bribery.

Those weren't the only cases involved in the big opinion day on Friday. In other actions, the court: (1) For the third time affirmed its opinion that clubs are subject to the state liquor license quota of 1939. The ruling came on an appeal by a Veterans of Foreign Wars post in West Hazleton.

(2) Reversed a Public Utility Commission order that had directed Altoona to furnish water to eight property owners in nearby Logan township. The court opinion, by Judge Arnold Hirt, said the PUC order did "not meet the test of reasonableness as to the means and method for providing" the service.

The Superior Court, in approving the higher transit fares for Pittsburgh, upheld a PUC decision which maintained the Pittsburgh Railways company and Pittsburgh Motor Coach company suffered from "accelerated depreciation and obsolescence."

Turnpike Nemesis For Auto Bandit

Harrisburg, Jan. 15 (AP) — A confusion of ramps leading to the Pennsylvania turnpike landed a 26-year-old Detroit man in jail.

Police said Everett Lincoln told them he intended to go to Pittsburgh after robbing a Harrisburg used car dealer here Friday night.

He fled in a stolen automobile to a turnpike interchange at nearby Highspire, took the wrong turn and ended up at the Philadelphia terminus of the superhighway—right into the hands of alerted police.

Lincoln was charged with armed robbery and stealing an automobile and held for a hearing before Alderman John L. Madden Monday. Police said Lincoln entered a used car agency owned by Clarence Iseovitz, fired two shots over Iseovitz's head and shackled the man to a desk. He took $50 in cash from Iseovitz's wallet and stole a light-colored automobile bearing dealer's plates.

Vatican City, Jan. 15 (AP) — A Vatican decree forbidding Catholic clergy to join Rotary International, it has been explained, applies equally to such a similar organization as Kiwanis, the Lions and other civic groups.

A member of the Congregation of the Sacred Office, which drew up the decree, said the document reiterated the church's preference that Catholic laymen and women associate themselves with Catholic church-sponsored or recommended organizations, such as the Knights of Columbus.

When Mauna Loa, Hawaii, erupted in 1855, the volcano's lava flowed at a rate of 40 miles an hour.

New Oxford

New Oxford—Young people of the Pines Lutheran church are meeting each Friday afternoon at 4:15 at the home of their pastor, the Rev. Samuel M. Clarke, to be instructed for confirmation in the spring.

Statistics of the parish of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church were read to the congregation on Sunday by the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor, who makes such a report on the size, financial condition, etc., of the parish each year, along with a report on the number of marriages, baptisms, etc., during the past year within its congregation.

Mrs. Edward C. Smith, Harrisburg, was a visitor last week of her sister, Miss Mae Adelaide Kuhn, formerly of near Hanover, who is a guest at the Kuhn Convalescent home, east of town. Miss Kuhn taught rural schools in this section many years ago.

The local chapter, National Council of Catholic Women, plans to conduct a public card party at the parochial hall on Tuesday evening, January 17.

Samuel Mummert, elderly resident of near Pine Run, was a recent guest at the home of Hanover relatives.

Into meetings of the Girls' Activity club of the local Catholic parish, formed in the fall of parish girls of high school age, has been incorporated special prayer by the assembled group for the intention of World Peace, a particular intention of the Holy Years of 1950 and 1951.

The recently married Mr. and Mrs. John A. Greenholt are beginning housekeeping in Hanover. Before their marriage during the holidays, Mrs. Greenholt was Miss Gladys M.

COLLEGE GRAD GIVES REPORT ON NEW DRUG

Dr. Barkley Beidleman, a graduate of Gettysburg college, is one of a team of four medical scientists which reports in the current Journal of the American Medical Association that a new drug from the soil called neomycin is proving "dramatically effective" in wiping out disease germs in the human body.

Dr. Beidleman is presently a member of the faculty of the Jefferson Medical school, Philadelphia, and is associated with Dr. Garfield in the study of internal medicine.

Science Service said the drug worked in treatment of ten patients with infections, chiefly of the urinary tract, which had resisted treatment with such drugs as penicillin and streptomycin.

Discovered At Rutgers

Two Rutgers university scientists discovered neomycin a year ago in a search for a drug which would stop germs resistant to the antibiotics. The team of medics considers it significant that in no case where the germs were eradicated by neomycin did they return after the drug was stopped.

Dr. Beidleman's parents are Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hursh Beidleman, Hanover. Rev. Dr. Beidleman is pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church.

Their physician son was graduated from Hanover Senior high Lawrence near here. Mr. Greenholt is formerly of McSherrystown.

school in the class of 1937, in 1941 from Gettysburg college, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa; in 1945 from Harvard Medical school and served his internship and residence at Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia.

He served with the rank of captain as regimental surgeon of the 26th Infantry at Bamberg, Germany, during World War II.

Dr. Beidleman was awarded an Army commendation ribbon for meritorious achievement.

In addition to his connections with Jefferson, he is assistant director of the out-patient department of the Pennsylvania hospital and is a member of the medical staff of the Philadelphia Electric company.

The American National Red Cross is one of 66 similar societies throughout the world.

Mistaken Santa Takes Gifts Back

Houston, Tex., Jan. 15 (AP)—Santa Claus came back to correct an error, but the 25-year-old painter who got $19,000 through a bank error said he didn't claim the children's toys.

Robert L. Baker of Jacinto City has turned over to the First State bank of Greens Bayou a $15,000 certified check and a 1950 automobile. He also agreed to work out a plan to pay back $2,000 of the money he spent paying debts and buying his two children "the best Christmas they'll ever have in their lives."

Baker received his November bank statement early in December and instead of the $15.73 he believed he had it said he had $19,015.73. The bank confirmed his balance when he telephoned.

"I knew I'd have to pay it back some time, but I figured that if I could pay up all my bills, get back to working and get my feet on the ground, I could pay it back."

LIVING COSTS AT HIGHEST IN HISTORY OF U.S.

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Living costs now are at their highest in history: 31 percent higher than in June, 1946, when OPA was scuttled and price controls were lifted.

They've risen more than three percent since the Korean shooting started in June. The next government figures, expected in a few days, probably will show costs still rising.

Last week President Truman made it clear price and wage controls are coming. But when? Not, it seems, until the government has been able to assemble a staff big enough to handle them. That may be months away.

A Brief Review

This is brief review leading up to where we are now.

When this country got into the Korean fighting, and was kicked around, the nation realized a big defense program was needed.

To get it started, President Truman on July 19 asked Congress for some very limited powers: To allocate materials to defense plants and to curb credit as a brake on inflation.

He didn't ask, and didn't want, power to control prices and wages. Had he gone far enough? There was divided opinion.

For instance, Senator Taft, Ohio Republican and a long time critic of Mr. Truman and peace-time price controls, did not want Mr. Truman to have stand-by powers.

Relied On Baruch

But on July 26 Bernard Baruch urged Congress to pass a law going all out on controls. The next day

Mr. Truman said he disagreed with Baruch.

But Baruch won such support from Congress that by September it passed a law giving the President much greater power than he had asked, including power to control prices and wages any time he saw fit.

On September 9 he set up an organization to handle prices and wages. Called the Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA), it has two branches: The office of price control and the wage stabilization board.

And on September 19 he made Alan Valentine, an educator, boss of ESA, which meant boss of both branches. On October 10 Mr. Truman made Cyrus S. Ching head of the wage board under Valentine.

But for three months after Congress passed the law, Mr. Truman didn't appoint a price control board. In those months this country scored a great victory in Korea. But in late November the Chinese Communists turned the great victory into a great disaster.

Questions To Be Settled

And just at the end of November—on November 30—the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics, in its monthly report, showed living costs were at a record high and still climbing.

Two days later, December 2, Mr. Truman made Michael V. Disalle, the price boss, under Valentine. Disalle, of course, couldn't just walk in and order price controls across the board.

He did not have a staff to carry them out. Last week Disalle wanted to order all prices frozen for 30 days but Valentine thought differently.

So Disalle's outfit is still waiting till it gets a larger staff. But maybe the whole price-wage control set-up of the ESA will have to be changed because the question being kicked around now is this:

Can ESA work at all so long as Valentine can veto Disalle and Ching? Labor leaders, for instance,

UMW Didn't Back Maize Appointment

Hazleton, Pa., Jan. 15 (AP)—Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers, says the union did not support the reappointment of Richard Maize as secretary of mines. Maize was reappointed on Friday by Governor-Elect John S. Fine.

Kennedy, in a statement, said, "the United Mine Workers of America, in its seven Pennsylvania districts, has not indicated support of the reappointment of the present secretary of mines."

"The UMW official said stories that the union backed the naming of Maize had appeared in 'some of the leading newspapers of Pennsylvania.'"

"The story was evidently fabricated," Kennedy said, "and planted without foundation in truth or in fact."

18TH CHILD IN 18 YEARS

Cliffwood Beach, N. J., Jan. 15 (AP)—Mrs. Clara Carey, 34-year-old wife of a $60-a-week boiler engineer, gave birth to a ten-pound boy yesterday—the couple's 18th child in 18 years of marriage.

TO ELIMINATE SHARP CURVE

With the majority of highway projects in Frederick county shut down for the winter, some preliminary work may get under way in the near future on the relocation of a short section of Route 15 just south of Emmitsburg to eliminate the severe Toll Gate Hill curve, it has been learned.

The project is slated to be carried out by the State Roads commission largely through the use of prison labor, it is understood. The commission, it was learned, has definitely allocated funds for the relocation and the work now depends largely on the weather, with indications that no major operations can be conducted until around the first of April.

The curve is considered one of the worst on Route 15 north and was reportedly the scene of a tieup for nearly an hour recently when there were icy roads, because two trucks jackknifed.

Through the cooperation of St. Joseph's college, a right-of-way has been provided which will enable the commission to eliminate the curve entirely by crossing college land, with the relocation starting a short distance south of the present curve and reconnecting with Route 15 at the southern end of the bridge over Toms creek on the outskirts of Emmitsburg.

The highest elevation in Florida is 325 feet.

Stewardess Dies A Heroine In Airliner Wreckage Sunday

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—An attractive 24-year-old stewardess—only five months in flying service—died on duty yesterday after rescuing 10 passengers from the flaming wreckage of a National Airlines plane in which seven perished.

Mary Frances Housley, five-foot, three-inch brunette who went to work for NAL only last August, died a heroine in the fire-swept DC-4. The big four-engined plane skidded over a runway, crashed into a ditch and burned in landing at International airport. Four other women and two babies lost their lives.

Saved At Least 10 To the last, Miss Housley, described by fellow employees as "the most pleasant person you ever want to meet," died with one of the victims—a four-month-old baby—in her arms. She was credited with leading to safety at least 10 of the 18 passengers who escaped with minor injuries.

Survivors of the crash told how the black-eyed-hostess from Jacksonville, Fla., opened the cabin door and cautioned them to "take it easy." Then she made repeated rescue trips into the plane until she was swallowed up by the flames.

J. A. LeBlanc, NAL senior agent, one of the witnesses to the accident, said the plane was making an approach in rough weather with visibility 1 1/4 miles. He said that after making a normal landing on the snow-covered runway the plane traveled to the end of the runway and off the end into a ditch.

Instrument Landing The pilot, Howell Barwick, and the co-pilot, Edward Zatarian, both of Jacksonville, Fla., emerged uninjured and were whisked away by NAL officials before they could tell their story. Civil Aeronautics authorities later interrogated them but nothing was disclosed of the questioning.

It was alternately snowing and raining as the big plane came in for its only landing on a flight from Newark, N. J., to Norfolk, Va. It touched down for the landing at 2:13 p.m. on the 6,000-foot paved runway.

Because clouds covered the airport the plane made an instrument landing, a CAA administration employee on duty in the airport control tower, said. He verified that it was a normal landing but said the plane overran the runway, rammed through a cyclone fence and bumped across the ditch, grinding to a stop with the after section of the fuselage bridging the 10-foot cut.

Survivors Unhurt As soon as the plane stopped, flames shot up from the severed left wing, and fed by hundreds of gallons of high octane gasoline, flashed to the cabin. Airport emergency squads were unable to extinguish the fire before the plane was all but destroyed.

None of the 21 passengers and crewmen surviving were seriously injured. Most of them suffered bruises in the 10-foot jump from the cabin to the ground. Others were burned about the hands and face.

Mrs. Manuela Smith, wife of a sailor stationed at Norfolk, Va., escaped with her three-year-old daughter, Betty Jane, but lost her infant daughter, Brenda Joyce. It was Brenda Joyce who died in Miss Housley's arms.

Mrs. H. Marchiano and her infant son of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., also were among the dead.

"A Real Heroine" Other victims were identified as Mrs. N. B. Joynes, 58, and Marion Carden, 28, both of Norfolk, Va., and a passenger listed on the manifest as Mrs. Lewis Hubian of New York city.

A navy captain, lieutenant and three enlisted men; a marine pfc. and an army pfc. were among the injured. All were returning to their stations.

Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church was host for the first of the winter series of union vesper services Sunday evening. The program was in charge of the host pastor, Rev. F. E. Reynolds. The church choir was under the direction of Samuel H. Higinbotham, accompanied by the church organist, Miss Shirley Gobrecht. A special anthem, "Vesper Hymn," by Bortiniansky, was sung by the junior choir under the direction of Mr. Higinbotham, accompanied by Miss Gobrecht. The religious sound film, "Reaching from Heaven," was shown by Elmer E. Furlow, assisted by Harry Herring. Next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the union vesper services will be held at Centenary Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. Harvey B. Simons, will be in charge and the religious sound film, "Sickie or Cross," will be shown. The following Sunday, January 28, a third outstanding religious sound film, "The Great Commandment," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran church. The pastor, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, will be in charge of the service.

The altar flowers at Redeemer's church on Sunday were given in memory of Rudolph Garland, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Garland. The church bulletins on Sunday were given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Hawk by their son, Edward F. Hawk, and family.

Annie Mayers Rites Held
Funeral services for Mrs. Annie E. Mayers, 80, widow of George J. Mayers, 435 High street, Hanover, formerly of Littlestown R. 2, were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from her late home. Mrs. Mayers died Friday in the Hanover hospital as a result of a fall at her home at 6:45 a.m. on that day. Lester J. Sell, York county coroner, said Mrs. Mayers died of shock and a fractured left shoulder and pelvis.

The Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown, officiated. Interment was in the Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown. Serving as pallbearers were her grandsons Wilbur Mayers, Irvin Crabbs, Monroe Moeckel, Fred Crabbs, Melvin Shanbrook and Lake Shanbrook.

The annual friendship supper of St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, will be held Wednesday at 6:45 p.m. in the church social hall. Following the supper a program will be held and the reports of the "Lord, Teach Us How To Pray" was the sermon theme of Rev. J. H. Ehlers, Hanover, guest minister at Christ Evangelical and Reformed church, at the worship service on Sunday morning. A basket of flowers was placed in the church in recognition of Jacob Wildasin's 46 years of service as a trustee of the church, by the Christ church trustees. The flowers were then presented to Mr. Wildasin, who is now bedfast. The trustees announced on Sunday that $50 had been presented to the permanent cemetery fund of Christ church by Harry and Mary Bridenbort.

ASKS BREAK WITH RUSSIA

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Asserting that the United States already is fighting communism "in World War III," Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) called today for a break in diplomatic relations with Russia.

Bridges, top Republican on the Senate armed services and appropriations committee, said there must be round-the-clock production and universal military service to build the fighting machine to win "a war far more deadly than any in the recorded history of mankind."

The New Hampshire senator sided with Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) in a demand for military aid to the Chinese Nationalists through the blockade of Red China and encouragement of guerrilla activities there. The two lawmakers spoke out in speeches prepared for the resumption today of a bitter Senate debate over foreign policy.

McCarran said that unless a second front is opened in China American troops will go on "taking one licking after another" in Korea.
